We would not deny the gravity of death. It is a quite serious matter even to those of us who, while conus of, or at least admitting, no really sinful performances in the past, would nevertheless, if pressed, coness to certain minor indiscretions which we would be only too willing to join with the Lord in forgetting. Nevrtheless, if form or ceremony or gen eral interest be considered the crite-rion, dying is one of the most popular things one can do. Nobody goes to see a man born, but the entire community turns out to see him buried. Indeed it is well known that many people, perhaps a majority, derive actual enjoyment from beholding with their own eyes life flicker out of a person's The almost universal satisfaction found from time immemorial in witnessing a hanging we can understand.
